Field Visit to Water pond

Report

The Department of Botany arranged to visit to Water pond for B.Sc IIsem students on 23.07.2024 which is accompanied by faculty Shri.S.B.Belagali with 23 students. The main purpose of this visit to study Algal bloom in the pond. An algal bloom or algae bloom is a rapid increase or accumulation in the population of algae in fresh water or in marine water systems. It is often recognized by the discoloration in the water from the algae's.

The term algae encompasses many types of aquatic photosynthetic organisms, both macroscopic multicellular organisms like Cyanobacteria. Algal blooms commonly refer to the rapid growth of microscopic unicellular algae, not macroscopic algae. Algal blooms are the result of nutrient, like nitrogen or phosphorus from various sources (fertilizer runoff or other forms of nutrient pollution) entering the aquatic system and causing excessive growth of algae. An algal bloom affects the whole pond ecosystem.

By this visit students gained the knowledge about algal bloom. Harmful effect of algal bloom.

Disadvantages of algal bloom;

- Consequence range from the benign feeding of higher tropic levels to more harmful effects like blocking sunlight from reaching other organisms, causing a depletion of oxygen levels in the water and depending on the organism secreting toxins into the water.
- The algal blooms that can injure animals or the ecology, especially those blooms where toxins are secreted by the algae, are usually called "harmful algal bloom" and can lead to fish die. The process of over supply of nutrients leading to algae growth and oxygen depletion is called eutrophication.
