Institutional Values and Best Practices

7.1.4 Water conservation facilities In the institution

Rain Water Harvesting

It is the process of collection, storage and reusing of harvested rain water to use protective irrigation for our Botanical Garden. In the college Western part we constructed a open tank measuring about Length of 4.27meters, Breadth of 2.44m and Height of 2.26m with two compartments. There will be a collection of 23,460 liters of water in the tank which will refill three to four times during rainy season and is utilized for garden.
